H&R Block Welcomes New Senior Leadership

August 7, 2025

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 07, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- H&R Block, Inc. (NYSE: HRB), a leading provider of global tax preparation, financial products and small business solutions, today announced Jason Lenhart as Senior Vice President and Chief Technology Officer, and Monika Mehrotra as Senior Vice President, Operations & Technology. The leaders will help accelerate the company's transformation, elevating its financial services and building on its 70-year legacy of empowering financial freedom for clients through trust and technology.

"Jason and Monika bring exceptional leadership and technical depth to our organization," said Scott Manuel, Chief Strategy & Operations Officer. "Jason's engineering expertise and product-led mindset will help us build world-class capabilities, while Monika's global operations experience will drive efficiency and innovation across our platforms."

Jason Lenhart, Senior Vice President and Chief Technology Officer

Lenhart leads the company's engineering teams in building scalable, product-driven solutions aligned with H&R Block's consumer and small business ideal states. Previously, he served as Vice President of Technology Engineering at JetBlue, where he led software development. He brings a passion for developing rich customer experiences and has led teams in the launch of well-known digital products, including HBO Max.

Lenhart holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and a Master of Science degree in Computer Science from Drexel University.

Monika Mehrotra, Senior Vice President, Operations & Technology

Mehrotra oversees financial products operations, fraud prevention, infrastructure, global systems, and India operations. Before joining H&R Block, she was Vice President of Global Operations at TransUnion. She brings a unique blend of engineering, global delivery, and operational excellence experience.

Mehrotra holds a Bachelor of Technology degree in Computer Science from the Institute of Engineering and Technology in India and a Master of Business Administration in Finance from the University of Chicago Booth School of Business.

The company recently introduced additional leadership across the organization to support the H&R Block mission.
