CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 2, 2007--H&R Block, the world's largest tax services provider, will host a job fair from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 3, as part of its Latino Connections event at the Belmont Assembly of God Church, 6050 W. Belmont Ave., in Chicago.

Anyone interested in learning more about employment opportunities with H&R Block is encouraged to attend. Information about the H&R Block Income Tax Course will be available at the job fair.

The class includes 69 hours of instruction and generally meets two or three times a week for three hours. H&R Block offers the course in English, as well as a bilingual course in Spanish. Multiple class locations are offered, and course schedules are flexible so students can take the course without sacrificing existing work, school or family schedules.

The H&R Block Income Tax Course is designed to help participants learn about basic and complex tax situations. From identifying the correct filing status and number of dependents, to learning how to qualify for deductions related to self-employment and alternative-energy vehicle purchases, the course educates participants on the tax-preparation process.

"This course appeals to a wide-range of people, from those with accounting backgrounds to stay-at-home moms wanting to earn additional income, to people who simply want to ensure they're claiming all the tax benefits they're eligible for," said H&R Block Division Human Resources Director Patricia Carl.
