H&R Block Reports Fiscal 2027 First Quarter Results and Reaffirms Fiscal 2027 Outlook

— Revenue Increased 10% —

— Repurchased $100 Million of Shares as Part of Full-Year Capital Return Strategy —

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - H&R Block, Inc. (NYSE: HRB) (the "Company") today released financial results[1] for its fiscal 2027 first quarter ended September 30, 2026.

"We are pleased with our start to fiscal 2027, including revenue growth of more than 10%," said Curtis Campbell, president and chief executive officer. "At the same time, we continue advancing strategic initiatives designed to enhance the client experience and support future growth. Our focus remains on executing our strategy and positioning H&R Block for long-term success."

Fiscal 2027 First Quarter Results and Key Financial Metrics

"Our financial position remains strong, and we continue to execute our disciplined capital allocation priorities," said Tiffany Mason, chief financial officer. "During the first quarter, we invested in the business to support future growth while returning capital to shareholders through dividends and share repurchases. We remain confident in the assumptions underlying our fiscal 2027 outlook and are reaffirming our guidance."

The Company reminds readers that its business is highly seasonal, and first quarter results consistently reflect this pattern. Historically, this period contributes modestly to annual revenue and typically generates a net loss.

For the first quarter, the Company delivered total revenue of $224.3 million, an increase of $20.8 million, or 10.2%, versus the prior year. The increase was primarily the result of growth in international services, higher tax protection and identity services, an increase in small business services, and growth in U.S. tax preparation revenues.

Total operating expenses of $456.2 million increased by $45.6 million, or 11.1%, versus the prior year. The increase was primarily due to higher field compensation and benefits, increased general corporate expenses, and higher occupancy and equipment costs.

During the first quarter, the Company recognized $8.0 million of severance and related costs associated with the previously announced seasonal office leadership transition, which were recorded in field compensation and benefits. This charge has been excluded from adjusted results.

Net loss from continuing operations increased by $22.8 million, or 13.8%, to ($188.1) million, and loss per share from continuing operations[2] increased 21.4% to ($1.53).

Adjusted net loss from continuing operations[2] increased by $14.9 million, or 9.5%, to ($172.1) million, and adjusted loss per share from continuing operations[2] increased 16.7% to ($1.40), due to a higher net loss and fewer shares outstanding as a result of share repurchases.

[1]All amounts in this release are unaudited. Unless otherwise noted, all comparisons refer to the current period compared to the corresponding prior year period.
[2]All share amounts are based on weighted average fully diluted shares over the corresponding period. The Company reports non-GAAP financial measures of performance, including adjusted net income, adjusted earnings per share (EPS), earnings before interest, tax, depreciation, and amortization (EBITDA), and adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations, which it considers to be useful metrics for management and investors to evaluate and compare the ongoing operating performance of the Company. See "About Non-GAAP Financial Information" below for more information regarding financial measures not prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

Capital Allocation

The Company reported the following related to its capital structure:

- The Company announced today that its Board of Directors declared a quarterly cash dividend of $0.46 per share which will be paid on January 6, 2027, to shareholders of record as of December 3, 2026.
- The Company repurchased and retired 2.2 million shares at an aggregate price of $100.3 million, or $45.68 per share, in the first quarter. It has approximately $500 million remaining on its $1.5 billion share repurchase program.
- Year-to-date, the Company has returned $156.9 million to shareholders in the form of dividends and share repurchases.

H&R Block has paid quarterly dividends consecutively since the Company became public in 1962. Since 2016, the Company has returned more than $5.3 billion to shareholders in the form of dividends and share repurchases, buying back over 49% of its shares outstanding[3].

Fiscal Year 2027 Outlook Reaffirmed

The Company continues to expect:

- Revenue to be in the range of $4.11 to $4.16 billion.
- Adjusted EBITDA[4] to be in the range of $1.11 to $1.14 billion.
- Effective tax rate to be approximately 23%.
- Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share[4] to be in the range of $6.04 to $6.24.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the securities laws. Forward-looking statements can be identified by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. They often include words or variation of words such as "expects," "anticipates," "intends," "plans," "believes," "commits," "seeks," "estimates," "projects," "forecasts," "targets," "would," "will," "should," "goal," "could" or "may" or other similar expressions. Forward-looking statements provide management's current expectations or predictions of future conditions, events or results. All statements that address operating performance, events or developments that we expect or anticipate will occur in the future are forward-looking statements. They may include estimates of revenues, client trajectory, income, effective tax rate, earnings per share, cost savings, capital expenditures, dividends, share repurchases, liquidity, capital structure, market share, industry volumes or other financial items, descriptions of management’s plans or objectives for future operations, products or services, or descriptions of assumptions underlying any of the above. They may also include the expected impact of external events beyond the Company’s control, such as outbreaks of infectious disease, severe weather events, natural or manmade disasters, or changes in the regulatory environment in which we operate. All forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made and reflect the Company's good faith beliefs, assumptions and expectations, but they are not guarantees of future performance or events. Furthermore, the Company disclaims any obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement to reflect changes in underlying assumptions, factors, or expectations, new information, data or methods, future events or other changes, except as required by law. By their nature, forward-looking statements are subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking statements. Factors that might cause such differences include, but are not limited to a variety of economic, competitive and regulatory factors, many of which are beyond the Company's control, that are described in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the most recently completed fiscal year in the section entitled "Risk Factors" and additional factors we may describe from time to time in other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. You may get such filings for free at our website at https://investors.hrblock.com. In addition, factors that may cause the Company’s actual estimated effective tax rate to differ from estimates include the Company’s actual results from operations compared to current estimates, future discrete items, changes in interpretations and assumptions the Company has made, future actions of the Company, or increases in applicable tax rates in jurisdictions where the Company operates. You should understand that it is not possible to predict or identify all such factors and, consequently, you should not consider any such list to be a complete set of all potential risks or uncertainties.

Non-GAAP Financial Information

Non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered as a substitute for, or superior to, measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with GAAP. Because these measures are not measures of financial performance under GAAP and are susceptible to varying calculations, they may not be comparable to similarly titled measures for other companies.

We consider our non-GAAP financial measures to be performance measures and a useful metric for management and investors to evaluate and compare the ongoing operating performance of our business. We make adjustments for certain non-GAAP financial measures related to amortization of intangibles from acquisitions, goodwill impairments, severance and related costs of discrete strategic initiatives, and material discrete tax impacts of IRS examination settlements. We may consider whether other significant items that arise in the future should be excluded from our non-GAAP financial measures, such as future organizational restructuring initiatives and legal settlements, when such items are not indicative of our ongoing operating performance.

We measure the performance of our business using a variety of metrics, including earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) from continuing operations, adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations, adjusted net income from continuing operations, and adjusted diluted earnings per share from continuing operations. We also use EBITDA from continuing operations and pretax income from continuing operations, each subject to permitted adjustments, as performance metrics in incentive compensation calculations for our employees.
