H&R Block Reports Tax Season Data Through March 31

April 18, 2005 8:31 AM ET

KANSAS CITY, Mo.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--April 18, 2005--H&R Block Inc. (NYSE:HRB) today reported that tax preparation and related fees from its U.S. retail operations increased 6.4 percent to $1.9 billion through March 31, 2005. The average fee per client served in company-owned and franchised offices rose 6.9 percent to $146.69.

The number of clients served in the company's U.S. retail operations declined slightly by 0.5 percent through March 31. Digital tax solutions clients served declined 6.1 percent through the same period.

"These results are consistent with retail client growth at the low end of our expected range," said Mark A. Ernst, chairman and chief executive officer. "The continued increase in more complex tax returns is yielding a higher average fee per client."

The company is maintaining its earnings guidance at the low end of the $3.50 to $4 per share range, as previously communicated.

H&R Block plans to release preliminary business results for the final two weeks of the U.S. tax season before market opening on May 6.

Except for historical information contained herein, the matters set forth in this press release are forward-looking statements based upon current information and expectations. Such statements speak only as of the date on which they are made, are not guarantees of future performance, and involve certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions that could cause actual results to differ materially from what is expressed, implied or forecast in such forward-looking statements. Such differences could be caused by a number of factors, including but not limited to: the uncertainty that the company will achieve or exceed its revenue, earnings, and earnings-per-share growth goals or expectations for fiscal year 2005, and that actual financial results for fiscal year 2005 will fall within the guidance provided by the company; the uncertainty of the company and its shareholders; the uncertainty as to the effect on financial results of the adoption of accounting pronouncements; changes in interest rates; changes in economic, political or regulatory environments; the uncertainty of assumptions utilized to estimate cash flows from residual interests in mortgage securitizations and mortgage servicing rights; risks associated with sources of liquidity for each of the lines of business of the company; changes in competition; litigation involving the company and its subsidiaries; and risks described from time to time in reports and registration statements filed by H&R Block Inc. and its subsidiaries with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Readers should take these factors into account in evaluating such forward-looking statements.
